MAURICE SENDAK

Maurice Sendak was born in New York City on June 10, 1928. His parents had moved to the United States from Poland. When he was very young, Maurice developed a wild imagination. He began to draw pictures from his imagination. Then, when he was a teenager, he fell in love with a movie which helped him decide to become an illustrator. In 1947, his illustrations were first published in a science textbook. In 1951, he began his career as an illustrator for many children’s books. His first major work was found in A Hole Is to Dig (1952), written by Ruth Kraus. He did many more projects with Kraus. Then he started writing and illustrating stories of his own.

Did You Know?• Maurice Sendak was inspired by Walt Disney’s Fantasia.
• Where the Wild Things Are won the Caldecott Award in 1964.
• The “wild things” are based on his aunts and uncles who loved him so much!
